STEEL-PLATE PRINTING.

The State Called Upon to Pay 832,000 for Violation of Contract in Yesterday in the City Circuit Court Gudge Beverly R. Wellford) the case of the Kendall Bank-Note Company, of New York, against the Board of Commissioners of the Sinking Fund of Virginia was coninded—the jury, after an absence from the som of twelve minutes, bringing in a veriet for plaintiffs for $30,000, with interest, total with interest and cost of about

When the General Assembly passed the Riddleberger bill it authorized the Sinkng-Fund Commissioners to have the bonds and coupons therefor engraved and printed, and arranged that the funding should commence on the 1st of July, 1882. Three competitors appeared with offers to to the work—the American Bank-Note Company and the Kendall Bank-Note Competitions of the Wortern Engraving Comand the Western Engraving Com-The bid of the last was not con-

The bid of the Kendall Company wa about $1,200 lower than the other, and it was accepted; Second-Auditor Dyson and Treasurer Reveley voting for it, and Auditor of Public Accounts Allen voting for the American Company.

A reason urged against the Kendall Company by Mr. Allen was that Mr. Kendall and made an improper approach to him for the vote. Subsequently Mr. Kendall was arrested on that charge, examined before Police-Justice Pichardson, and honorably Police-Justice Richardson, and honorably

The work to be done by the Kendall Company was steel-plate printing of the very best style, and on one of the designs of bonds was a picture of General William Mahone. After the plates were made Ma-sone declared that he would not allow that use of his picture to be made. So the work was stopped, that plate destroyed, and Riddleberger's picture sent on to be substituted for Mahone's. This, the evidenos showed, threw back the work so that the bands could not possibly be furnished on July 1st—and that that would be the case the company informed the commis-sioners in advance. As to who was responsi ble for this delay formed one of the chief grounds of contention on the trial. It was only overshadowed by the allegation of defendants that it was understood by them and by the Kendall Company that the bonds of the latter would be received on the Stock Exchange of New York. For failing to furnish evidence that their bonds would be so received the Board some time in the ner of 1882 met and gave notice that if summer of 1882 met and gave new thin for-such evidence was not furnished within forty-eight hours the contract with the Kendall Company would be rescinded. And it was so rescinded—Messrs. Alien and Reveley wating "Aye"; Mr. Dyson voting "No"—and that after nearly all the bonds had been printed and some of them delivered. The contract was then awarded to the American Bank-note Company, and they printed the bonds which were finally 1-

All these and many other matters were testified to, and Judge Weilford instructed the jury—to which instructions the Attorrey-General excepted, and thereupon may hase an appeal—and the case was argued on yesterday for the plaintiffs by Edgar Allan, Esq., and for the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund (State of Virginia) by Attorney-General Blair, and then went to the jury, with the result above stated-a verdict for the Kendall Bank-Note Compawerder for the Kendali Bank-Note Compa-ny of about $32,000, which includes costs of printing, charges, &c., growing out of the performance of the contract.

There were no political developments in the trial. Most of the testimony was hun-drum. The Legislature, however, will upon to pay twice for printing of bonds (the American Company have already been by the breach. It is claimed that a most paid), and will no doubt order a committee of investigation.

At a regular meeting of Virginia Coun-cit, No. 954, American Leigon of Honor, held at Powhatan Hall on Friday the 11th instant, the following officers were installed $7,000; lot on Thirtieth street for $60. for the term: Hiram H. Clarke, chaplain; Gidwell Jordan, warden; sane Schwartz, sentry.

The McCauli Opera Company closed their engagement here last night to the largest audience of the week. The Theatre was andience of the week. The Theatre was crowded. Many persons were turned away from the doors and the money that had been paid for their tickets refunded. The opera, Prince of Methusalem, is very bright and pleasing, and is the best of Sirauss's compositions. It was beautifully put upon the stage and rendered. Miss Carson, who was billed for Pulcinella, did not enter one of the chorus young ladies. not appear, one of the chorus young ladies being substituted. Mr. Maillin appeared as Cyprian, and, as on former occasions, his comedy acting was excellent. He plays the part of an old man to the life. The company is a very fine one and will be well received whenever it returns to this city.

Next Thursday evening Saulsbury's Troubadours will appear in their new farcical comedy, entitled "Three of a Kind." The company has been increased, and now includes the popular Nellie McHenry and Mate Saulsbury. There are few fun-making and laughter-creating combinations now before the public that equal Saulsbury's Troubadours. Wherever they go crowds delight to attend, and this is one among the surest guarantees that the company do all they promise. The engagement is for three nights and Saturday matinée. Saulsbury's Troubadour's

Mrs. Cole and Miss Bowen.

Mrs. Belle Cole, who will appear at Miss Bowen's entertainment at Mozart Hall on January 22d, is a mezzo-soprano, who was effected by Theodore Thomas for the grand festivais given by him on the tour from New York to San Francisco, and is favorably known on the concert stage of New York, Philadelphis, and Baltimore.

Sothern.

PIERCED BY A RED-HOT BAR. A Tredegar Workman Killed by a Be shoved Through the Calf of His Log.

Yesterday afternoon Carter Jones, a colored laborer at the Tredegar Works, was run through the east of one leg by a bar of red-hot iron, receiving injuries from which he soon afterwards died.

he soon afterwards died.

Jones had left off work, but had come back into a part of the establishment where long bars of iron were being rolled out for the spike-machine.

The roller runs the bar out, and men with tongs guide it to its destination on the ground for cooling. Jones, whose presence was not known to the other workmen, was caught in a position where he could not retreat and where the bar could not be managed to save him, and it pierced his leg and burned it nearly off. Doctors were at once summoned, and did all they could for him.

He was put in the city ambulance to be conveved to the Almshouse Hospital, but died before he reached there. He was forty-six years of age, had been long employed at the Tredegar, and was a worthy man.

He resided at No. 3174 Arch street.

D. J. Godwin and the Brotherhood.

The Committee for Courts of Justice will to-morrow take up the charges preferred against ex-Judge Godwin by a number of citizens of Norfolk, charging him with having obtained in a fraudulent way money from certain parties who were members of an insurance and beneficiary organization known as the Christian Brotherhood, of which organization Judge Godwin was president and a director. The charter of the organization is a strange one, and some curious developments are D. J. Godwin and the Brotherh one, and some curious developments are anticipated. If the charges are sustained, the committee will bring in a report so stating, and then an act cancelling the a remedy at law for the sufferers from the action of Godwin as a director and president of the Brotherhood will have to be adopted. John Goode, Jr., is the counsel for the defendants in the case.

Personals and Briefs. General Wiekham yesterday reported from the Committee on Finance a bill to allow of the interchange of the coupon and registered bonds.

registered bonds.

Edward Lilly, arrested upon a telegram from Baltimore charging him with obtaining money by false prefences in that city, was before Judge Atkins vesterday on a writ of habeas corpus, and the case continued until to-morrow at 11 o'clock. The Jefferson Literary and Social Circle had to postpone the first of their series of entertainments from January 8th until next Wednesday the 16th on account of the bad weather, when the affair will take place at Sunger Hall. Invitations for the first will be good for the second occasion. The American barkentine Matthew Baird, 412 tons. A. T. Forbes master, cleared yesterday for Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, with 4.615 barrels flour, shipped by the Haxall-Crenshaw Company and Duniop &

McCance, valued at $27,109. Colonel Cabell and Wife. The funeral of the wife of Colonel H. Coalier Cabell, who died night before last from burns received that morning, will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from Grace Episcopal church.

In his efforts to extinguish the flame which enveloped his wife Colonel Cabell received very severe burns. Both hands were badly injured, and he has been in bed ever since.

In his great affliction Colonel Cabell has the symmetry of thousands of people, in the sympathy of thousands of people, in-cluding numbers who were in the army with him, and who remember him as one of the coolest of men in action, one of the most considerate of officers, one of the most modest and worthy of men.

The matter concerning the sale of meats and green groceries at other places than the market-hall is agitated again. The market-hall is now of little or no benefit to the city, no stalls being open, and is in a had and leaky condition.

Rev. Mr. Christian will preach a sermon to-night at the Ninth-Street Methodist church, of which he is pastor, specially to the young.

A bill has been reported in the Ser increase the salary of Judge S. Bassett French, of Manchester. It is understood that some members of the City Council are opposed to this measure, and will oppose it when it comes before the committee.

The Central-Asylum Suit.

The case of Madison Flanagan against the Central Lunatic Asylum Board will be tried Monday in the City Circuit Court. This suit grows out of an alleged breach been decided in the Kendall suit-that is,

The Spectre of the Past.
Deep in my heart a grave I made—
The spot was dark and ione—
I piled o'er it the damp, dead earth,
And on it blaced a stone.
Above the mournful eypress trees
A soleann viril kept;
And o'er it, like a clinging shroud.
The sad, green ivy crept.
And seldom fell the dreary sun
Athwart the shadows deep.
The hope, I said, I bury here
Shall never wake from steep. [For the Dispatch.]

But when the south wind waileth, At slowly-dying day; When twilight gently wrappeth Earth in its mantle gray, From out the darkened corners. Where hauming anadows fice. A spirit crosselh softly And paueth close to me. No word its pale lips speaketh, No sound to make afraid, But on my brow in allence. Its chilling hand is laid.

Or when the revel's wildest.
And 'mid the joyona throng.
I join the happy-nearted
in mirth and dance, and song.
It suddenly ariseth.
And slowly doth it glide
Through all the light and laughte
And snandeth at my side.
It startles not another—
I only see it stand,
The while my brow grows pallid
'Neath that remorseless hand.

I conjure it back to the tomb
That locks the cold corpse fast
Alas, what sepurcitre can seal
The spectre of the past?
It riselfs with me at morning,
And all the tony day through
Wherever my lootstep bendeth,
Unseen it goeth too.
Its lips forevermore are sealed,
It speaks no word, and yet,
Is graven on its same face,

I have been using for a mouth or two in my household Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), the greater portion of it having been consumed by the female portion of my family, and with the happiest results. It acted like a charm on my wife, who had been n bad health for a long time, and for whom I have paid hundreds of dollars for dectors and medicines. The part to have the property of the part o medicines. I began to build her up from the first dose. Another female member of my family took it with equally satisfactory results. It is certainly the best tonic for delicate ladies that I have ever that want of exercise, close confinement in poorly-ventilated houses, sewer-gas poison, and mala-rial poison often produce alckness among our wives daughters, and sisters, and I believe Swift's Specific is the remedy for all this sort of blood-poisoning.
